

Dallas Area Writers Group Provides Summer Reading Lists for 2010

For Immediate Release: May 6, 2010

The Dallas Area Writers Group (DAWG) presents their 2010 annual summer reading lists. This year's selection includes six different lists for readers from every age bracket. Each list contains ten books selected to thrill you, inform you, and help you enjoy your vacation, some with Texas flair.

Readers who complete any one of the lists can sign up online to receive a DAWG "BARKK" Certificate "Books Are Readers' Key to Knowledge" from the Writers Group at dallaswriters.org.

The reading selections include two children's lists, two lists of novels, a list of non-fiction books and a list for readers who want to become writers.

"The goal of the Dallas Area Writers Group is to help people learn to write and get happily published," says DAWG president, Beverly Shay. "Since every writer must read, we think this is a way to get more people interested in writing. We welcome anyone who wants to learn more about writing to attend one of our free monthly meetings on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. at the Cedar Hill Public Library."

Alan Elliott, a DAWG board member and coordinator of this year's reading list says, "Readers who read all of the books in any one of the categories can sign up for a certificate at the www.dallaswriters.org Web site. We hope Dallasites will get on board to enjoy reading this summer through this program."
